Stream No. 4 (1 notice)

East side Gravina Bay

Width: 25 feet

Depth: 10 inches

Rough granite boulder bottom, with a little granite gravel mixed with the boulders. Has a rapid place about 200 yards from mean high tide mouth. The drop is 4 or 5 feet. The bed above that is much better. Lots of small granite gravel. No lake.

Sept. 16, 1927: 7 fish.

Stream No. 5 (2 notices)

Comfort Cove

Width: 40 feet

Depth: 8 inches.

Appears to be accessible for fish for about 1 mile.

Stream No. 5 cont'd

Has a rough granite boulder bottom, with a little fine gravel mixed with the boulders. Head goes dry for about 200 yards at low tide. (Another small stream comes in on north side about 400 yards from head. It is 8 feet wide and 4 inches deep. The bottom same as other one.)

Sept. 16, 1927: 200 fish.

Stream No. 6 (2 notices)

East shore Gravina Bay

Width: 25 feet

Depth: 6 inches.

Did not go up stream, but could see it was short; not more than 1/4 mile for fish.

The bottom near mouth is grey rock and slate gravel. In the stream proper there are many rocks.

Sept. 16, 1927: 500 fish

Stream No. 7 (2 notices)

Head Beartrap Bay.

Width: 30 feet

Depth: 18 inches.

Accessible for about 1/2 mile, may be more.

Has a good fine gravel bottom, some granite. Some glacier water in it, but fairly clear. Should be all right for humps. (There are 2 other streams here but they just drop off the mountainside onto a pile of bare rocks.)

Sept. 17, 1927: Stream smaller than above. 5,000 fish.

Stream No. 8 (2 notices)

Beartrap Bay near entrance.

Width: 12 feet

Depth: 12 inches

Accessible about 600 feet above mean high tide,—high falls then.

Has a fine gravel bottom and good bar at mouth.

Sept. 17, 1927: 500 fish.
